THE AFFIGENT DIFFERENCE

Our mission is to serve the U.S. Federal government by helping DoD and Civilian customers achieve technological innovation. We help do this by enabling public sector organizations to:

- Maximize process improvements, and
- Optimize investments.

We help our customers by delivering total end-to-end solutions; representing a full array of IT products and solutions to help meet IT needs quickly, efficiently and cost effectively.

A HOLISTIC VIEW. A CONSULTATIVE APPROACH.

Affigent takes a holistic approach that brings with it deep visibility into the interdependencies between your extended enterprise system, components and the business processes that guide your mission. Our process is one of consultation as we establish Affigent as a trusted advisor to deliver full lifecycle solutions (to include services and support) that drive lower cost of ownership. Between our ISO, PMP, and ITIL certifications, we can serve our customers in the most efficient and effective manner. We have subject matter experts in house that work closely to define your requirements, analyze your existing environments and develop a cost effective solution comprised of leading manufacturer products.

What does technology innovation look like? Affigent examines our customers' existing investments, identifies the areas of need and recommends the appropriate technology enhancement that will allow them to maximize their existing capital investments.

ADDRESSING YOUR MOST IMPORTANT IT NEEDS

Mobility, Security, Data Consolidation and Virtualization. The areas we know our DHS customers are working to find IT products that can streamline their business processes and address areas of vulnerability. Affigent holds an extensive portfolio of technical certifications and specializations demonstrating our rich expertise in supporting our customers' technical needs. Together we can create a flexible solution framework that accommodates current requirements, anticipates future needs and takes DHS where you need to be at your own pace with less complexity and risk, fewer dollars and faster time to value. This is the Affigent advantage.
